About the Builder

The SBC team is in the business of delivery quality no matter what the size or the budget. When working with SBC, you can be assured that you're getting a group experienced in working with the entire team to help make the rendering a residence. We understand that no project can be built by one entity alone and that it takes relationships and collaboration with owners, architects, designers, engineers, subcontractors and suppliers to see the results we all strive to achieve. We have the ability and craftsman to help make all your ideas, old and new, become reality. It's one of the things previous clients have told us sets SBC apart and brings the Montana-family owned business into your Montana-family-owned-home.

When working with SBC, you're getting a skilled and dedicated team with a long standing record of quality. Characteristics we strive for include delivering on each promise, continuous honesty and openness, and with a continued attention to detail. You'll see this attitude evident from the direct dealings with a principal of the company to the newest team member on the jobsite. Since SBC prides itself on taking the time to get to know you and your project, we hope you will consider these introductions as the beginning of a long-term working relationship.
